

Sustainable Living

When we build your new home, we consider every detail—from the materials we use to the energy and water-saving features we include. We are forward-thinking so you enjoy personal benefits, like comfort, well-being and savings – and a home where you can thrive.

Designed to be ENERGY STAR® certified.

Enjoy a new home that's more comfortable and designed from the foundation up to help save you money.

- High-quality heating and cooling systems, plus high-efficiency insulation enhance year-round comfort.
- Low-E, dual-paned windows can block up to 90% of UV rays streaming into your house.
- Comprehensive air sealing helps keep dust and pollen outside and reduce drafts and noise inside.
- Enjoy an average annual savings of up to an estimated $1,400 on utility bills compared to typical used homes without certification.

Water-saving features are included.

Enjoy standard features that help manage energy consumption and save you money.

- On average, our water-efficient features help save homeowners up to $500 annually on utility bills when compared to homes that lack these features.
- Water-efficient fixtures and features help conserve a precious natural resource.
- ENERGY STAR certified dishwashers use significantly less water than traditional models.

Built with your health in mind.

We use materials and features that provide a healthier indoor environment that's better for your overall well-being.

- High-performance ventilation systems enhance your home's indoor air environment by regularly introducing fresh outdoor air and reducing indoor pollutants.
- Standard interior door hardware comes with antimicrobial product protection that helps reduce the spread of bacteria and germs.
- Environmentally conscious products are used for our flooring, tile, paint, and cabinetry.
